SUBJECT: Responses to Additional Questions to Victim, C.R.# [REDACTED]

Q1. "On 14 thru 17 OCT 2011, what was your assignment?"

A1. From 14 through 17 OCT 2011, my assignment was the Education and Training Division, Instructional Design and Quality Control Section (IDQC).

Q2. "To the best of your recollection, is access to this area where the missing property was stored restricted or access controlled by a key card or other means?"

A2. The area called IDQC is a restricted area of the academy, unmanned and locked on first and third watches. My cubicle containing the locked metal cabinet is located in IDQC. Legitimate access to IDQC is controlled via restricted key for both of the doors leading to the area.

Q3. "Have you had any problems with persons that may have had knowledge the property that was taken personally belonged to you?"

A3. I have not had problems with any persons that may have had knowledge the property that was taken personally belonged to me.

Q4. "Was this area where the property was taken from secured and was the lock destroyed or tampered with?"

A4. I have no personal knowledge that, on the dates in question, the doors leading to IDQC were properly secured. There are marks in the edge of the inner hallway door indicating the door (wooden) was "jimmied".

Q5. "Are there any available records to show whom may have had access to this storage area?"

A5. I am unsure of the meaning of "storage area" used in the question.

1. If the term refers to the locked metal storage cabinet in my cubicle from which the property was taken, then I am not aware of any "available records" showing a list of persons having legitimate access to the cabinet. To the best of my knowledge, I have the only keys to the storage cabinet. The locked metal cabinet in my cubicle was jimmied open.

2. If the term refers to the entire IDQC section, then a list of persons who were issued keys is available from supervisors at the academy. Since any person in the academy that weekend without a key could have jimmied both the IDQC door and the metal storage cabinet, a list of people in the academy building over the weekend and/or on the first and third watches is available from the building sign-in sheets and from attendance sheets for instructors/supervisors of classes held on all watches that weekend.

Q6. "To the best of your knowledge, is there any way possible to narrow the time frame or definitively identify the individual(s) that may have had access to this storage area?"

A6. To the best of my knowledge there is no way possible to narrow the time frame in which this theft and damage to property occurred. To the best of my knowledge there are two ways to definitively identify the individual(s) who may have had access (both with a key and by jimmying the lock) to IDQC and therefore had access to the locked metal storage cabinet located in my cubicle (in which the property was stored): First is to determine all persons allowed in the academy building during the time frame; Second is to determine who was issued keys to IDQC.
